
Best Places to Work

as published March 25, 2009

We did it again! As published in the February 27, 2009 edition of Buffalo Business First, Lumsden & McCormick, LLP was once again selected as one of the Best Places to Work in Western New York. We have been selected a Best Place to Work in the employee category of 50 – 100 employees. The data was compiled from over 70 responses received from our employees who responded to the confidential online Survey. The data is computed by an independent source and tabulated to determine the top companies in each category based on the number of employees. The Survey asked questions related to the work environment and how satisfied the employee is with their employer and work environment.

John E. Oehler, CPA, Managing Partner stated, "I couldn't be more pleased with being named A Best Place to Work, again this year. It is a tribute to the collaborative efforts of our management team and employees who work together to serve our clients while creating a positive work environment. We thank our employees who participated in this Survey; it was their input that led us to this prized distinction."

Lumsden & McCormick will participate in a celebration lunch that will take place on March 26, 2009 at the Buffalo Niagara Convention Center. At that time, we'll find out which companies earned the top prize in each category and we'll recognize our employees and the contributions they make to the success of Lumsden & McCormick.

To learn more about working at Lumsden & McCormick go to the Careers page on our website.