

Mealey Earns CVA Designation

As published August 11, 2010

Brisbane Consulting Group is pleased to announce that Carley F. Mealey, CPA has recently become a Certified Valuation Analyst (CVA) by successfully completing the certification process of the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts (NACVA).

Carley is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) and the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants. Her valuation experience includes the valuation of closely held businesses, covering a wide-range of industries and engagements including marital dissolution, forensic accounting, estate and gift tax, and stockholder litigation actions. Her experience also includes several fraud and embezzlement projects and the quantification of lost income in determining business interruption claims for insurance adjusters. Carley holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in accounting from Cameron University in Lawton, Oklahoma. She resides in Niagara Falls.

NACVA is a nationwide association of professionals whose primary focus is providing business valuation and appraisal services. To become certified by the NACVA, the candidate is required to successfully complete a rigorous training and testing process. A preemptive requirement to becoming a CVA is being a licensed certified public accountant (CPA).
