

Young Joins University of Buffalo Center for the Arts Advisory Council

Lumsden & McCormick is pleased to announce that Mary Young, CPA, Manager has been appointed to the University of Buffalo Center for the Arts Advisory Council. The Center for the Arts is a unique, non-profit cultural institution established by the University at Buffalo in 1994.

Mary, a graduate of UB is happy to taken on this new role and aid the Center in its mission of providing a variety of high quality performing and visual arts to the University, the region and throughout New York State. To learn more about the Center for Arts go to www.ubcfa.org.

Mary has experience working with governmental entities including school districts, industrial development agencies and municipalities in the areas of auditing, single audits, taxation, information returns and financial reporting. She currently conducts the audit fieldwork for our larger school districts and maintains the continuing professional education requirements of Governmental Auditing Standards. Mary is also experienced and provides services to many of our nonprofit clients. She is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants (NYSSCPA), the NYSSCPA Public Schools Accounting Committee, the Association of School Business Officials, the Western Chapter of the Government Finance Officers' Association, and is active in the New York State Association of Counties. Mary graduated from the State University of New York at Buffalo and has been with Lumsden & McCormick since 1996. She is former treasurer and past board member of Working For Downtown.